Cultural competency for personal, organizational and community change

October 21, 2019, 8:30-4:30pm
Student Services Building, Room 6
OR
November 6, 2019, 8:30-4:30pm
Engineering Building, Room 3540

Led by members of the NatSci DEI Facilitation Team

In the full-day workshop, we will explore issues of power, oppression and privilege. We will reflect on how we’ve learned about human differences and examine our social identities and membership in target and non-target groups. We will learn about a framework for cultural competency development and apply it to personal and organizational change, with a focus on our work within the College of Natural Science.

Open to NatSci faculty, staff, specialists, postdocs and graduate students
